

I am very tired of getting calls in the middle of the night, one morning at 4:30am the telephone rang, meanwhile my sister is in the hospital and I thought I would have a heart attack, I could only think of the worse, when I answered it sounded like a fax, just beeping, these are the calls I have been getting not only in the middle of the night, but during the daytime as well. Please someone help us with all these annoying calls. Thanking you in advance.
